FOOTBALL GAME BROADCAST 'SAT.

Arlington residents interested in the fortunes of the High School's team will be able to hear the first game of the season broadcast over WCRB at 1:30 on the dial.

When Arlington meets Newton this Saturday, WCRB microphones will be at Dickinson Stadium, with Bill Sherman of the station's staff ready to broadcast a full play-by-play description of the contest.

Starting time of the game is 2:30 p.m., with the field taking the air some 15 minutes in advance to cover line-ups and other material. Football fanfare, with advance predictions and football music, will be on the station from 1:30 on.

WCRB is covering the home games of both Waltham and Newton High for its second season of football broadcasts. This year's games are brought to listeners through the courtesy of Clinton Clothes.

Mrs. Elizabeth H. Beaton, of 56 Menotomy road, Arlington, has been named chairman of publicity for the Arlington Catholic Woman's Club for the coming year.

"Damon & Pythias"

Damon and Pythias epitomized friendship, but no greater friend has any fellow than Walter Berthiaume, Jr., 14 (in bed) whose pal, Carl Johnson, 13, (left) took over his newspaper route and raised $75 for him when polio sent Walt to the Children's Hospital one month ago. Both boys live on Thatcher St., Hyde Park. Nurse Katherine Edgelow of Springfield, Mass., helped count the money.

PHILHARMONIC CONCERT NOV. 9

The rehearsals of the chorus of the Arlington Philharmonic society started on Monday, September 12, followed on Tuesday evening at the high school auditorium by the orchestra rehearsal.

Members Of St. James' Girls' Softball Team To Be Tendered Testimonial Banquet Oct. 11

Group Wins Enviably Record For Achievements In Softball

Reverend Maurice J. O'Connor, D. D., LL. D., pastor of St. James' Church, Arlington Heights, together with a large group of parishioners will tender the members of St. James' Girls' softball team, a testimonial, a catered banquet, a fine program of entertainment and wellknown speakers, both clergy and famous sports figures in the New England field, at the Robbins Town Hall, on Tuesday evening, October 11, at seven o'clock.

These girls have been playing together as a team for the past three years, under the direction of their coach, John E. Ronan. After nearly three months of close competition this year, in the Catholic Youth Organization League, they emerged the diocese champions on August 28, at the Summer Street playground, by defeating St. Ambrose of Dorchester, in their second and final game, by a score of 12 to 0.

Last Saturday evening, the members of this championship team, were special guests of "Your Sports Special" program on WNAC-TV. Each member of the team was introduced by Bump Hadley to the television audience and some of the players gave an excellent exhibition of their outstanding ability.

The large committee for the testimonial is headed by Frederick W. Carew, as general chairman. He will be assisted by John P. Buckley chairman of the program committee, Francis C. Winters, chairman of the ticket committee and Miss Marilyn M. Knowles, chairman of the patrons committee.

Those who are to be honored at the Testimonial in addition to Ronan include: Marilyn M. Knowles, Manager; Rita M. O'Riavis, Captain; Margaret K. Callahan, Mary A. Carew, Harriett J. Dwyer, Ann M. Donahue, Ann M. Harrington, Elizabeth P. Leary, Patricia A. Leary, Mary E. McDonough, Jean A. Morrison, Carole A. Murphy, Philomena F. Reid, Pauline T. Stofaney, Victoria M. Waller, Shirley A. Welosky and Jane R. Weymouth.

"SLOW DOWN"

The school bells are now calling our children back to classes.

For the motorist, this means a strict obedience to all signs indicating the approach to schools and school crossings.

But this is not all.

Children are no longer safely at play in recreational areas. They are now on the streets in large numbers. After school hours, residential streets are used by neighborhood children everywhere for play.

It is up to the motorists to slow down. Children cannot be depended upon to use proper caution.

Drivers must be prepared for the unexpected dash from sidewalk, often directly in the path of approaching cars. It is the duty of every driver to use proper caution, for the most dangerous season of the year for children is at hand. Cool fall weather, too, brings the urge for faster driving and greater speed hazards result on all the roads of the nation.

Let no child fall a tragic victim to the criminal carelessness of an automobile driver.

It is up to us to drive with reduced speed, and be on the alert for the unexpected.

EMPLOYERS URGED TO HIRE DISABLED VETS

The Department of Massachusetts, Disabled American Veterans, asks all employers to consider hiring disabled veterans for job openings.

The reason why the Disabled American Veterans urges employers to hire disabled veterans is that records prove they have:

1. A low absentee record.
2. A low turnover record.
3. A low accident record.
4. A high efficiency record.

These records, above prove that Disabled Veterans are more serious and cautious about their work. By establishing these records, they show their employers that they appreciate the opportunity of proving that although disabled in some respects, they are still able to produce a day's work in a conscientious manner.

The President has issued a proclamation to the effect that October 2 to October 8 will be National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week.

Department Commander, Charles H. Littlefield, of the Disabled Americans, urges all employers to observe the week of October 2 to October 8 by considering the physically handicapped for job openings.

Local Red Cross Motor Corps Has Busy Summer

The regular drivers for the Arlington Red Cross Motor Corps usually take a vacation during July and August. This summer there have been many calls for the Station Wagon. The Motor Corps and Red Cross officials are most grateful for the help of the ladies who generously gave their time for the driving. Mrs. J. C. Clapp, Mrs. John H. Campbell, Mrs. LaLurence R. Eaton, Miss Isabel Hallett, Mrs. H. E. LaFayette, Mrs. H. O. Lance, Mrs. Priscilla MacEwen, Mrs. Robert W. Murphy, Mrs. Frank Newcomb, Mrs. L. C. Pespisa, Mrs. A. H. Thomson, Miss Bertha Yerrinton, Miss Katherine Yerrinton.

1284 miles have been driven this summer. The hospitals visited include Mass. General, Children's Hospital, The Deaconess Hospital, Westboro, Waltham Tuberculosis Sanitarium, Bedford Veteran's Hospital, Chelsea Naval Hospital, North Reading Sanitarium every Saturday and the Blood Bank at Forest Hills for Symmes Arlington Hospital. On one trip, two Arlington policemen gave efficient and courteous help with a very sick patient.

The workrooms have been open every Monday from 10 until 4 p.m. 3830 surgical dressings have been made for the Mass. General Hospital and 100 binders, 146 blankets and 543 diapers for Red Cross layettes. 9 sleeveless sweaters and 50 squares for afghans for Veterans Hospitals.

On Tuesdays during August, the members of the Woman's Aid of Symmes Arlington Hospital, used the workrooms to make 60 pairs of curtains for the new addition to the Hospital, under the direction of the President of the Woman's Aid Association, Mrs. Laurence R. Eaton.

The Red Cross Free Bed has been used twice this summer for maternity cases. Mrs. P. Harmon Spillers, canteen chairman, has taken workers to the D. P. ship on June 1 and July 29. A real service during the intense heat.

Notice of the reopening of the workrooms at the Unitarian church, Miss Emily Norton, chairman, and the Baptist church, Mrs. E. Stanley Beck, chairman. Mrs. James W. Kidder and Mrs. Edward H. Kittredge's sewing groups will be announced very soon.

Mr. Barber acted as accompanist for the chorus of 75 voices for the summer school concert presented at Sanders Theatre.

The William Sinclairs Observe Anniversary

Congratulations and best wishes of the ARLINGTON PRESS are extended to Mr. and Mrs. William Sinclair, of 141 Medford Street, Arlington, who on Wednesday, September 7th, quietly observed their 55th wedding anniversary. The couple were married in Cambridge and have resided in Arlington for 51 years.

Although he is now eighty-eight years of age, Mr. Sinclair is still employed by the E. and F. King & Co., Boston paint and chemical concern, with which he has been connected for 62 years.

Both Mr and Mrs. Sinclair are in excellent health. They have two sons, William Sinclair and George O. Sinclair, of Arlington and one daughter, Mrs. Helen S. Cleary, of Marblehead. There are also four grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Arlington Girl Weds Medford Resident

On Labor Day evening, at St. Agnes church in Arlington, Miss Helen Gail Young, daughter of Mrs. Helen G. Young, and the late George Young, this town, became the bride of John Joseph Devaney, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Devaney, of 103 Brooks street, Medford. Rev. John J. Crowley, S. J., of Weston College, a cousin of the bride, celebrated the nuptial mass.

The bride was gowned in ivory satin, with seed pearl trim and seed pearl headpiece holding her French illusion veil in place. A prayer book with white orchid and stephanotis completed her costume. The honor attendant was Mrs. Katherine M. LeClair, a sister of the bride. Mrs. LeClair was gowned in American beauty satin and carried a cascade bouquet of rubin lillies. The bridesmaids included the Misses Barbara Devaney, sister of the bridegroom and Margaret Callahan, of Arlington. The flower girl was Patricia LeClair. All wore gowns of blue and carried red roses.

Serving as best man for his brother, was Herbert Devaney, and the ushers included Thomas Devaney and Albert L. Young. Following a reception at Ye Lantern, in Arlington, Mr. and Mrs. Devaney departed on a wedding trip to New York and Washington.

Silver Anniversary Dinner Tendered Arlington Couple

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Carney, (the former Mildred T. Murphy) of 26 Bates road, Arlington, were the guests of honor at an anniversary dinner tendered them on Monday evening, September 5th.

The couple received many gifts of silver, money and floral tributes. The reception was held at Blinstrub's Village, South Boston, where a chicken dinner was served to a group of fifty-five guests.

Mrs. Carney is the daughter of James J. Murphy, who previous to coming to Arlington twelve years ago, resided on Pearson road, in Somerville.

Mr. Carney, a former Charlestown man, is employed by the MTA, having been affiliated with

RED CROSS APPEALS FOR NURSES' AIDES

Red Cross Nurse's Aides are needed desperately in hospitals, dispensaries and clinics in Greater Boston.

There must be women in Arlington with a few free hours a day, one day a week who can volunteer for this all important service.

After a few hours of training the Nurse's Aide assists the graduate nurse by taking temperatures, pulse and respiration assisting with dressings, preparing patients for sterilization and perform numerous other jobs that are vital and that will relieve the graduate nurse to care for the more seriously ill and injured.

In fire, flood, accident or epidemic should strike suddenly in your community, you will as a Red Cross Nurse's Aide be ready for emergency duty.

"You can bring comfort and relief to the ill as a Red Cross Nurse's Aide," states Mrs. Nathaniel T. Worthen, chairman of the Volunteer services of the Boston Metropolitan Chapter of Red Cross, "and bring pleasure and complete satisfaction to yourself, in knowing that you are a part of a vital service within the community."

Day-time and evening courses for Red Cross Nurse's Aide will begin soon and are offered free of charge. Any woman eighteen years or older interested in helping to alleviate human suffering should call the Boston Metropolitan Chapter of Red Cross at KENmore 6-6226 and arrange for an interview with this service.

SERVICES FOR FORMER SALESMAN

Funeral services for Herbert E. McIntire, 75, of 143 Park avenue, formerly a wholesale drug salesman, who passed away on Sunday at his home, were held on Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at his Arlington Heights home, with burial at Westlawn cemetery, in Lowell, Mass. Mr. McIntire was the husband of the late Loretta Gordon McIntire.

Back To School Warning Issued To All Drivers

Registrar of Motor Vehicles Rudolph F. King today issued the following statement relative to the reopening of schools throughout the Commonwealth in the days immediately following the Labor Day holiday:

"Hundreds of thousands of boys and girls, all over the State of Massachusetts will be using the highways with the reopening of schools in the next few days," said the Registrar, "and I appeal to every motorist and pedestrian to make every effort to prevent need less highway accidents which might result in death or serious injury to our children going to and from classrooms."

"Back to School" means to these thousands of children; it is the end of the long summer vacation and all that 'holidays' can mean to our youths. It means that our highways will again be used in regular patterns by those youngsters who have been to school before and who have some safety instruction.

"School opening further means that thousands of tiny tots will, for the first time, leave the shelter and protection of home and parents to begin their education in primary grades. Their surroundings will be strange and confusing and their little minds will be filled with new thoughts of this experience. In fact, they will unwittingly be placed in hazardous jeopardy and should receive special consideration from everyone, parent older brother or sister, teacher, friend and neighbor, crossing policemen and particularly motor vehicle drivers.

"Back to School" time places a great responsibility on every citizen to individually exercise every caution in the protection of all children from highway accidents. Motorists must never take chances where children are concerned; a moments haste or carelessness might easily mean instant death to one of the most important little people in the world. Motorists have their duty clearly defined they must protect our children—NOW!" continued the Registrar.

"Pedestrians also can make most important contributions to child safety by setting good examples of safe walking practices. Let us all remember that children copy their elders; let our highway walking conduct be the kind we would want our little ones to copy. Pedestrians can serve as monitors when in school zones by lending a helping hand when needed. It may mean the difference between safety and jeopardy, between life and death."

National Foundation For Polio Pays Hospital Bill

Damon and Pythias never sold newspapers, nor was one of them crippled by polio like 14-year-old Walter Berthiaume, Jr., but the loyalty and friendship of his pal, 13-year-old Carl Johnson parallels that of the immortal Greek friends.

Walter and Carl both live on Thatcher street, Hyde Park, where they conduct newspaper routes. They had always been close friends and business rivals. Throughout the summer, the freckled-faced Carl and curly, black-headed Walter tried to outdo each other in the newspaper delivery business. Handsome, athletic Walter gained a slight edge on his younger friend.

One month ago Walter was stricken with infantile paralysis while delivering his last morning newspaper and Walter was a very sick lad when he was brought to the Boston Children's hospital from the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Eagan, of 22 Thatcher street, Hyde Park, with whom he makes his home.

Yes, things looked pretty black for the hard-working, ambitious youngster, until one day things took a happy turn for the better.

His buddy and rival Carl Johnson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson of 30 Thatcher street, had taken over Walter's newspaper route for him. At the same time, Carl set up a one man campaign on his route to raise funds for his polio stricken friend. The presentation to his friend the hospital of the donations from friends and well wishers to aid in his recovery was a scene long remembered by the doctors and nurses and the $75 in bills and coins will go a long way to aid the morale of the young newspaper man in his fight for health.

What neither boy knows is the fact that Walter Berthiaume's bill at the Children's Hospital is being paid by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Suffolk County Chapter.

STONEHAM V. F. W. RESUMES DANCES

Saturday, September 17, will be a gala evening for the regular and new patrons of the Stoneham VFW Ballroom. The first fall dance session will mark the beginning of the regular dance season in this modernistically appointed ballroom which is illuminated by subdued red fluorescent lights. The dance floor, itself, is adjudged the best this side of Boston.

Dance patrons will be most pleased to learn that Bud Eisman, that favorite maestro, and his orchestra, will again hold sway and give out with the type of music they liked so well.

Maestro Eisman has been busy this past summer arranging a wider repertoire of popular modern tunes and is certain to receive a warm welcome from his many friends in the ballroom.

Dancing will be a regular Saturday night feature in the Stoneham VFW ballroom and two door prizes will be awarded every Saturday evening. There will be no increase in price and the friendly atmosphere of welcome will prevail.

RECORD CONCERT AT LIBRARY HALL

The third concert of the popular series of recorded music was held in the Robbins Library Hall, Arlington, on Tuesday evening, September 13, at 7:30 o'clock. The concert was under the direction of Mrs. Lucinda F. Spofford, the librarian, and the trustees of the library.

SERVICES FOR MORA L. MILLER

Funeral services for Mora L. Miller, 54, of 22 Addison street, Arlington, a contractor and builder with offices at 68 Essex street, in Melrose, were held on Monday afternoon, September 12, at two o'clock, at the Hartwell Chapel, in Arlington. Burial was in Mount Pleasant cemetery, Arlington.

S. OF I. AUX. MARKS ANNIVERSARY

The fifteenth anniversary of Arlington ladies lodge, Sons of Italy, will be observed on Wednesday evening, September 21st, with a dinner and dance held at the Robbins town hall. Baron Hugo and his orchestra will furnish the music. Chairman of the committee is Mildred Ranauro.

COUNCIL OF CHURCHES IN THREE DAY CONFERENCE

Speaking at the opening meeting of the three-day conference on "The Church and Economic Life," sponsored by the Massachusetts Council of Churches, at the Harvard Business School, on Tuesday evening, Professor Herbert Gezork, of the Andover Newton Theological School, declared that "the church must not identify itself with any economic order or movement, but on the other hand, the church must not try to escape such involvements by retreating into an ivory tower and proclaiming that there exist no economic involvement. The church of today is faced with the two-fold problem of helping man better his economic life, without furthering the profit or gain of any specific group or organization. Professor Gezork is himself a self-exiled German teacher. Representatives from the Arlington churches are attending the sessions of the conference, which will be addressed also by Associate Dean Stanley F. Teele, of Harvard Business school, John Tomajan, Worcester manufacturer and Reginald Zalles, administrative director of the Massachusetts CIO.

Junior Philomatheia President Is Bride

Junior Philomatheia Club president, Miss Loretta Margaret Macarthy, daughter of Mrs. Walter N. Macarthy, of this town, and the late Mr. Macarthy, exchanged marriage vows recently in St. James church, with Boston College senior, Harry B. Ernst, the son of Mrs. Harry B. Ernst, and the late Mr. Ernst. The ceremony was solemnized at a nuptial mass by the Rev. Cornelius Harrington and the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Walter J. Macarthy.

The bride's white slipper satin wedding gown was styled with illusion yoke and deep bertha encrusted with seed pearls. A silver threaded tiara of seed pearls held her veil imported illusion. She carried a bridal bouquet of white orchids. Gowns of leaf green tissue faille, with draped sashes of copper, were worn by Mrs. Paul Lowney, of Park Drive, honor matron; Mrs. W. Newton, of Brighton, Mrs. William Cornyn, of Hyde Park, and Mrs. John Whalen, of Manchester, N. H. All wore ivy crowns and carried bouquets of ivy and copper pompons.

Richard J. Kinch, of Newton, was best man. The ushers included Paul Lowney, Paul Erickson, of Cambridge, and Robert Crowley, of Newton.

Assisting the newly weds at the reception in the Hotel Sheraton, were Mrs. Macarthy, matching her hat to a peacock blue crepe dress and Mrs. Ernst, mother of the bride groom, wearing gray crepe with a hat of purple ostrich feathers. The couple planned a honeymoon trip to Lake Placid and Canada. Upon their return, they will make their home in Arlington. The bride was graduated from Simmons college, while her husband a member of the Commonwealth Country club, is a prominent New England amateur golfer.

HOLY GHOST . . .

good Sisters of Charity at the Holy Ghost Hospital for incurables. This is only the second time a public appeal for assistance has been made in its 55 year history of administering freely to the relief and comfort of incurable patients.

The need is great as there are many immediate repairs necessary; an obsolete kitchen must be rebuilt and the rising cost of operations must be met in order to maintain this fine institution.

The Holy Ghost Hospital Fund Committee is headed by His Excellency, Richard J. Cushing, Archbishop of Boston, honorary chairman, Mayor Michael J. Neville, general chairman and Senator Daniel F. O'Brien, as program chairman.

The committee appeals to the public for contributions. Please mail your donations to the Mayor's Holy Ghost Hospital Fund, Holy Ghost Hospital, 1575 Cambridge street, Cambridge, Mass.

Onanian, 38 Amsden street, to enter Boston University college of liberal arts. These students ranked in the top quarter of their classes and have been admitted to college this month.

HARVARD ASSISTANT SAVES GIRL, EIGHT

An eight-year old Arlington girl was saved from drowning on Saturday night by a Harvard College laboratory assistant, who ran from his home nearby to pull her from fifteen feet of water, in an excavation at Boulevard road, Arlington, where a new drainage system is being installed.

The child, Mary Ann Driscoll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William

Driscoll, of 42 Massachusetts avenue, Arlington, was saved by Lawrence Donaldson, 40, of 33 Boulevard road. Mr. Donaldson works in the communications laboratory at Harvard. He grabbed her hand after getting a grip on the boards that had been placed about the hole to keep the sides from collapsing and was successful in pulling her to safety.

Red Feather Campaign To Hold Speaking Contest

Junior orators promise to blossom out by the dozen during the next few weeks, following the announcement that the Community Fund Red Feather campaign is conducting a Junior Leader Speaking Contest among boys and girls of high school grade throughout the metropolitan area.

Sponsored by the Educational Division, the contest will be conducted from Sept. 26 for a three-week period. Schools of high school grade in 43 cities and towns participating in the campaign are being invited to compete. Although the schools are just getting into their fall stride, there is every indication that many young orators will sign up as entrants.

Five minutes is the time limit for the speeches on the general theme, "What the Community Fund Means to Metropolitan Boston." Entrants will be judged on both composition and interpretation.

The contest, under the direction of Thomas C. Heffernan of the Boston School Department, is open to all high-schoolers in the area. Top winners in the contest, subdivided into three divisions, will be chosen from: a) City of Bos-

Dan McFadden Honored

Frederick W. Carew, general manager of the St. James Catholic Youth Organization, on Bump Hadley's sports program last Saturday evening, over station WNAC-TV, gave great praise to Arlington's Dan McFadden, popular chairman of the Arlington playgrounds, for the latter's excellent work in running the Park's baseball league during the season just closed and also for the success of the harbor sail to Plymouth, which latter cruise was enjoyed by more than one thousand of Arlington's young people.

The three finalists will not only be honored with a special award, but they will appear at various Red Feather campaign functions. They will make their initial appearance before the public at the opening rally, October 18, at Boston Garden. Local winners will fill speaking engagements in their home communities and the winner in each school participating will be given a framed award of merit.

Henry E. Keenan, will be public relations chairman again this year.

Metropolitan leaders, including Chairman Walter T. Kenney of Arlington and his local division chairmen, will attend the first of a series of five weekly pre-campaign Dutch treat luncheons, next Monday (Sept. 19) at the Boston City Club. Dr. Hugh R. Leavell, chairman of the Health Division, United Community Services of the Metropolitan Boston area, will speak.
